

BANE

Longtime Equal Vision Records' band Bane released their fourth and final full-length album, Don't Wait Up, on May 13, 2014. The album was recorded in Haverhill, MA with producer Jay Maas (Defeater, Bane).

"I can't believe we did it...but we did it. To me it means, we're leaving," shares vocalist Aaron Bedard of the new album. "This is us with our jackets on, our hair is clean and we're walking out the door and we look back at our loved ones and we're like...don't wait up...we're going to be out late tonight."

The debut track from Don't Wait Up, "All The Way Through" premiered on VICE's Noisey Blog, garnering nearly 20k plays in just 24 hours – serving as a powerful reminder of the band's ongoing musical legacy and massively dedicated fan base. A captivating music video for "Final Backward Glance" was released soon after via New Noise Magazine, who also featured the band on the magazine cover, offering fans an intimate glimpse at the band through intense live performance footage and candid emotional behind-the-scenes tour footage. The video is now available on Youtube.com/equalvision.

The bittersweet announcement of the forthcoming final album comes nearly twenty years after Bane's first release, which led the band on countless tours and earned them widespread respect for being one of the hardest working bands in the business.

Since their inception in 1995, Bane has toured all across the world countless times and has released three full-length albums: 1999's It All Comes Down To This, 2001's Give Blood, and 2005's The Note, in addition to several 7", EP and compilation releases.

Bane recently headlined in support of the album on a US tour this past Spring, featuring support from Turnstile and Take Offense. Despite being the band's final album, they will continue to tour heavily in 2015, with US dates announced with the likes of Backtrack, Axis, and Eternal Sleep, and a massive Europe/UK run with Comeback Kid. The band has also announced their final tour of Asia, which will take place in February and March of 2015.

"We truly did throw our hearts into these songs and hope that you're going to like them," shares Bane. "The plan is to tour heavily in the next year or two. We'd love to see some of you out there."
